Abdel Malik Ahmed Abdel Wahab al-Rahabi (YM-037)—a Yemeni al-Qa'ida member and former bodyguard for Usama Bin Ladin whom al-Qa'ida may have selected to participate in a hijacking plot—since July 2013 has continued to comply with the detention staff at Guantanamo. He has made statements that suggest he probably harbors animosity toward the US and possibly sympathizes with extremist causes. His brother-in-law in Yemen remains in contact with extremists in Syria. AQAP's modest level of activity and the Yemeni Government's insufficient ability to provide security in YM-037's hometown of Ibb largely has not changed.
