The Periodic Review Board, by consensus, determined that continued law of war detention of the detainee remains necessary to protect against a continuing significant threat to the security of the United States.

In making this determination, the Board considered the detainee's involvement with al-Qa'ida to include acting as the group's general manager and a trusted advisor for, and communications conduit to, Usama Bin Ladin and deputy amir Ayman al-Zawahiri. The Board also noted the detainee's continued statements supporting extremist activity, such as praising attacks against Western targets, to include 9/11, and expressing support for future attacks against Western civilian targets. Furthermore, the Board was unable to assess the detainee's credibility due to his decision not to participate in the hearing.
