The Periodic Review Board, by consensus, determined continued law of war detention of the detainee remains necessary to protect against a continuing significant threat to the security of the United States.

In making this determination, the Board considered the significant derogatory information regarding the detainee's past involvement in activities in Afghanistan to include basic and advanced training from al-Qa'ida and was concerned about his susceptibility to recruitment due to his current mindset. The Board noted his high level of significant noncompliance while in detention, including persistent and serious offenses against the guard force, as well as his expression of extremist views and anti-American sentiments while in detention.

The Board found the detainee credible in his desire to improve himself and his behavior. The Board looks forward to reviewing the detainee's file in six months and hopes to see the detainee make progress toward moving to communal living. The Board also encourages the detainee to be open to working with the medical staff to address issues contributing to his noncompliance.
