Haroon al-Afghani (AF-3148) was a Hezb-e Islami Gulbuddin (HIG) commander who organized and led attacks on coalition forces in Afghanistan and for a time served as a link between senior al-Qa'ida members and other anticoalition fighters. He worked as a courier for al-Qa'ida military commander 'Abd al-Hadi al-Iraqi (IZ-10026) until 2004 or 2005, provided logistics support to fighters aligned with al-Qa'ida and HIG, and probably collaborated on operational matters with leaders of other anticoalition groups.
