

UNCLASSIFIED

Unclassified Summary of Final Determination

Date of Board Determination 20 November 2013	Detainee Name Mahmud Abd Al Aziz Al Mujahid	Detainee ISN 031
---	--	-----------------------------------

In the case of Mahmud Abd Al Aziz Al Mujahid (ISN 031), the Periodic Review Board (PRB) determined by consensus that law of war detention is no longer necessary to protect against a continuing significant threat to the security of the United States. The detainee's positive and constructive role in detention since 2009, extensive family support in Yemen, and candor in recent interactions with US officials were among the factors which contributed to the consensus determination. With regard to the detainee's transfer, the PRB recommends the standard security assurances negotiated by the Guantanamo Detainee Transfer Working Group and the conditions normally associated with conditional detention, specifically that: 1) the security situation improves in Yemen; 2) an appropriate rehabilitation program becomes available; or 3) an appropriate third country resettlement option becomes available.