The Periodic Review Board, by consensus, determined that continued law of war detention of the detainee remains necessary to protect against a continuing significant threat to the security of the United States.

The Board previously indicated appreciation for the detainee's increased willingness to answer questions regarding his role within HIG and al Qaida; however, in this hearing the detainee was less forthcoming than in his prior hearing regarding his pre-detention activities, continuing to refuse to acknowledge prior admissions and al Qaida associations with high-level members. Such lack of candor makes it difficult for the Board to assess his current threat level.

The Board encourages the detainee to address this issue in his file review submission and recognizes the lack of extremist statements since his last review.
