Faez Mohammed Ahmed al-Kandari (KU-552)—a Kuwaiti al-Qa'ida recruiter and propagandist who probably served as Usama Bin Ladin's spiritual advisor—has remained compliant with the detention staff at Guantanamo since March 2014. He continues to deny having ever conducted terrorist acts or had extremist affiliations. Several members of his family probably also have taken part in terrorism, including attacks against US targets in Kuwait. One of KU-552's family members has been tied to al-Qa'ida affiliated groups in Syria.
